15 NATIONS AGREE TO ARMS TRUCE POWERS SIGN UP.

Building Holiday Scheduled to Begin Today.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Thirteen nations including the United States have formally signified their willingness to participate in a one year armament building truce proposed by the council of the league of nations, and, although there was no official statement from the league secretariat today, there was a disposition to believe that some sort of arms truce can be put into effect.

The building holiday, the league proposed, would begin tomorrow and continue for twelve months. France accepted conditionally, asserting that she was willing to participate if the nations which border that country also agreed.

Great Britain's Reply Awaited.

So far, in addition to the United States and France, affirmative replies have been received from Japan, Russia, Hungary, Holland, Australia, New Zealand, Czecho-Slovakia, Egypt, Albania, Latvia, and Luxembourg.

Great Britain has not replied, nor has Switzerland, and there has been no word yet from Italy or Germany, though Italy's willingness is taken for granted, as that country originally proposed the truce. Dispatches from Berlin also stated that Germany had accepted the plan and was sending its written assent to Geneva. Most of the important powers are thus accounted for.

Berlin Accepts with An "If."

BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Germany today accepted the league of nations proposal for a one year holiday in armaments, it was learned today. Written assent dispatched to Geneva was accompanied by a statement explaining the nation's peculiar position as a consequence of the restrictions of the Versailles treaty. The government will not make public the text of the communication until Monday.

Artist Swallows Poison at Table in Drug Store

Slumped over a table, an unidentified man was found unconscious late last night in the Walgreen drug store at 2515 North Kedzie avenue. County hospital physicians said he had swallowed several grains of a sedative drug and was in a serious condition. From cards in his pockets police believe he is Walter De Wolf, 26 years old, of 4706 Beacon street, an artist. On the table over which he had slumped was found a paper on which he had written while passing into a coma a few lines to his roommate, Fred Dannens, one of which read: "Will be philosophical. I hope he knows what wants to make me sleep away the cause."

Geographic Society Awards Medal

Dr. Gould Honored

In recognition of his service as second in command with the Byrd expedition to the Antarctic, Dr. Laurence M. Gould of the University of Michigan was presented with the gold medal of the Geographic Society of Chicago at a luncheon yesterday at the Stevens hotel. Speakers included the guest of honor, Dr. Fay-Cooper Cole of the University of Chicago, who made the presentation, and Rufus C. Dawes, president of the 1933 World's Fair.

Dr. Gould's talk dealt with the map changes resultant on the Byrd expedition. There are more changes to be made, he said, and he is anxious to be off on another expedition. For the first time in the history of the United States, it was recounted, land was claimed by actual right of discovery when a sledge party commanded by Dr. Gould planted the American flag on Mary Byrd land.

SLAIN HOLDUP MAN'S MOTHER ARRESTED AGAIN

Mrs. Anna Baranski, 58 years old, who was arrested on Aug. 1 after her son, John, had been killed while she was aiding him in a robbery, was taken into custody again yesterday.

Constable Arthur Krueger and two federal agents raided her home at 4025 Odell avenue, Norwood Park, with a warrant charging her and her husband, Michael, with violating the federal narcotic laws. The gray haired woman remarked as she was being led to jail that she hated all policemen.

In the house the raiders found drugs valued at $5,000, most of which, it is charged, came from drug stores that Mrs. Baranski and her accomplices had robbed.

Court Takes 7 Children from Divorced Couple

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 31.—[Special.]—Divorce of John F. Cox and his wife in Superior court today resulted in their seven children losing a home. The children were ordered into the custody of the guardian's home.

HUSBAND SPLITS INFINITIVE; WIFE CALLS HIM CRUEL

Her husband's use of split infinitives, the double negative, and "ain't," along with his habit of ending his sentences with prepositions were cited yesterday as grounds for divorce on the ground of cruelty in a bill filed in the Circuit court by Mrs. Helen Morse, 1612 Sunnyside avenue, an interior decorator. Her husband, John, a certified accountant, she charged, also refused to abide by social etiquette.

MRS. HELEN MORSE.

Once when a guest came to their home during the dinner hour and was ushered into the dining room, she added, her husband refused to rise or acknowledge the introduction, but continued to eat his meal.

The bill, drawn by Attorney Martha A. Burrows, explained that Morse deliberately used poor grammar to annoy his wife. In addition, although they had been married since February, 1930, Mrs. Morse charged, her husband had bought her only one dress before they parted on Oct. 22.

HOOVER ECONOMY STARTS ANOTHER ROW—IN HAITI

Officials of Island Fight Cut in Salary.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31.—[Special.]—Another controversy over economy—this time with the republic of Haiti—has descended on the administration.

Haitian officials, from President Vincent down, object to the 5 per cent salary cut insisted on by Sidney de la Rue, the American financial adviser, who must approve the Haitian budget under the treaty of 1916. They say they will take a cut provided American marines serving as officers of the garde and other American officials will take a similar cut in the pay they receive from the Haitian government.

The state department contends that marines serving with the garde volunteered for the duty on the basis of their present pay, and that they cannot be cut. Thus the controversy now stands at a deadlock.

"President Vincent," says Dr. Dantes Bellegarde, Haitian minister to the United States, "is not the man to accept this kind of threat, even from so great a power as the United States. He will resist to the end."

At the state department it was suggested that the road building appropriation or something might be cut instead of salaries, and a peaceful solution arrived at in this fashion. Mr. de la Rue contends that 22,600,000 gourds is all the Haitian government ought to spend next year, and has made a twelfth of this amount available for the first month's expenditures. The Haitian administration insists on spending 23,600,000 gourds.

In Haiti the gourds is not a fruit, but a monetary unit, and is worth about 20 cents.
